NATIONAL COUNCIL ON PROBLEM GAMBLING AND SOUTH EAST COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL LAUNCH YOUTH INITIATIVES

Short film produced by youths for youths kicks off problem gambling prevention and education programme

The National Council on Problem Gambling (NCPG), in collaboration with South East Community Development Council (SE CDC) today launched the short film, RISK, produced by youths for youths. The project is part of NCPG's efforts to help raise awareness of problem gambling and the dangers of gambling among young people.

The 15-minute short film was produced by the Southeast CDC's Youth2Youth Network and depicts the story of a young man, Milton, who unwittingly falls into gambling through his favourite sport – soccer. Touching on the psychology and attitudes of youth gamblers, „RISK“ examines the issues related to teen problem gambling, and is a realistic, entertaining and at times light hearted look at the issue. To reach as many young people as possible, „RISK“ will be streamed on the Teenage website (www.teenage.com.sg) for 3 months as well as on the NCPG website (www.ncpg.org.sg), Youth.SG (<http://youth.sg/>) and Youtube (<http://www.youtube.com>).

In phase two of the project with South East CDC, RISK will be screened, followed by discussions in schools in the South East District. These will be led by trained facilitators to highlight the issues surrounding youth problem gambling and challenge students to provide suggestions on how to tackle it. The project will also survey students to find out how aware they are on the issues of problem gambling, the signs of problem gambling, and their awareness of where to seek help.

Mayor Matthias Yao said: "I am happy to see that our youths themselves have come up with a project like RISK to create awareness and warn about the dangers of gambling among people of their age group. The message will be better received than if we took a top down approach."

In conjunction with the film project, SE CDC's Y2Y Network has organised a competition for the best "Star Teen" idea on how to promote problem gambling prevention messages among young people. Three short-listed youths will be invited to present their concepts to a panel of judges. The winner of the competition will be announced at a private closed-door „RISK“ cast party held at DXO, Colours by the Bay Esplanade Mall on 16 March 2007 from 3 to 7pm. The winner will receive support from the NCPG and SE CDC to implement the idea. The panel of judges and the judging criteria for the competition are attached in Annex 1.

Ms. Debra Soon, Chairman of the NCPG Youth sub-committee said: “We have worked for several months on this project and are very pleased that the South East CDC Y2Y Network has come up with such an accessible and relevant film project which conveys the issues in an entertaining manner. Because it was spearheaded by young people themselves, we are confident this film will resonate and have an impact among them. We hope that beyond generating awareness, the discussions which follow will generate more ideas on how to tackle problem gambling among youth.

We hope that other organisations will come forward with their ideas on how to reach young people and deal with the issue of youth problem gambling.”

Principals and teachers who are interested in the programme may wish to contact NCPG Secretariat at 6354-8154.
